EAGLE

ARCHIVE

AN OVERVIEW OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND EMPLOYEE PHOTOS

THE EAGLE ARCHIVE

Those of us who worked on 2017 Centennial projects, especially the 300-page Centennial yearbook and the book honoring the 100 People Passionate about Hinds Community College, learned first-hand how important it is to have complete, accurate information about past events and people at the college. Many of us spent hours scouring old issues of On Campus, Hindsight and Eagle yearbooks to put together timelines, write biographies and remember how far the college has come in 100 years.

For many of those years, the Eagle yearbooks chronicled student life and activities at Hinds. But with the advent of the internet and social media, our students lost interest in working on the yearbook staff and purchasing a yearbook at the end of the year. We made the reluctant decision to put our energies and resources elsewhere.

However, we also recognize that students are the heart of our college. We need a forum that keeps an historical account of student activities and achievements so that, in the future, we have that information at our disposal when we need it.

The Eagle Archive is intended to be a streamlined project that replaces the core information included in past Eagle yearbooks. It is not intended to be a full-scale yearbook to be sold to students. Instead, it is aimed at the Hinds employees, present and future, who will someday need this information.

This first volume includes two academic years, 2017-2018 and 2018-2019. Future volumes will cover only one year. The Eagle Archive covers student organizations and awards but also includes faculty and staff information not widely duplicated in other college publications, such as individual employee photos.

We hope you find this information useful.
